On-site Medical Solutions

> Medical audits

Whether your organization is setting up a subsidiary in a foreign country, or working on a remote site somewhere in a desert far away, you always want to make sure that your employees have access to a high level of healthcare. With many years of experience conducting such missions, Europ Assistance International Health Solutions can help you by reviewing:

- Local medical facilities both public and private, pharmacies, labs, etc...
- Transportation means (commercial flight, helicopters, ambulances, etc...).
- Road infrastructures and safety conditions.
- Housing capabilities (hotels, etc...).
- Other resources (water, electricity, food, etc...).

Europ Assistance will then provide the client with a complete audit report and its recommendation on the measures to be taken in order to ensure the safety of the client's staff on site.

> Training

To ensure that your staff is well prepared to handle a medical emergency at the worksite, we offer a number of training programs that can be conducted worldwide. Our programs address subjects such as reacting to a respiratory failure, reacting to an unconscious subject, using a semi-automatic defibrillator, etc...

No matter the size and profile of your staff, we have a training program adapted to your needs.

> Special Events

Whether you're organizing your company's anniversary in a major metropolitan area, or a large scale event abroad, we have the capability to provide medical services to ensure the safety of your guests. From the presence of a physician on site to respond to minor health problems, to a full emergency response team, no event is too small or too big for our teams of experts. Contact us and we'll review your project and present you with the most appropriate solution for your event.

> Remote site medical solutions

Whether you need a doctor on your own premises or a fully equipped and staffed medical structure, complete with medication stock and ambulance on site, Europ Assistance can assist you in bringing the high level of care your employees are accustomed to, right there at the worksite. With extensive experience in conducting similar projects, no task is too small or too big for our team of experts.

All our on-site medical structures are responsible for:

- Daily Medical Care.
- Application of the On-site Medical Security Policy (nutrition, hygiene, prevention ...).
- Management of:
  - Personnel's medical records.
  - The on-site pharmacist and equipments.

- Active participation in security drills.
- Securing wounded or sick persons before and during evacuation.

Our remote site solutions are:

- Implemented where your staff works.
- Adapted to each project's needs.
- Staffed with Certified doctors in emergency/critical care, nurses, paramedics, etc...
- Equipped with Emergency kits, general medical equipment, minor surgical equipment, and critical care equipment, all at international standards and locally approved.
- Stocked with locally purchased or imported medication (all western standard), disposable infusion and injection materials.

> Clinics for Expatriates

Europ Assistance International Health Solutions opens and manages small clinics in areas of high expatriates concentration where local facilities fail to meet the needs of that foreign population. These clinics are designed to provide family medicine services to the expatriates and their families, and can also provide temporary inpatient services for patients waiting to be evacuated out of their country of residence.

Staffed with western-trained Emergency physicians and stocked only with medication of known and controlled origin, these clinics aim at bringing to the expatriates and their families a level of care they would otherwise not find in their countries of assignment.
